SCHOOL BOARD ELECTION—Election clerks assist voters preparing to vote in Saturday's election for Bay St. Louis Municipal School District post. No candidate received a majority vote in the election and a run-off election was set for March 16. (Staff photo by Brenda Heathcock)

Run-off election slated

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
A run-off election has been scheduled for Saturday, March 16 between Bay St. Louis School Board candidates, Margo Bradford-Frommeyer and L. D. "Danny" Carter. Bay St. Louis School Superintendent J. D. McCullough reported late Saturday the run-off election is necessary because there was no clear majority winner following the tallying of Saturday's votes.

Frommeyer received the highest number of votes with 134, followed by Carter with 125 votes. A third candidate, Albert W. Von Antz received 38 votes.

The run-off election will be conducted at the Waveland Elementary School on St. Joseph Street from 2-5 p.m.

The election is for voters in the Bay St. Louis Municipal School District who live outside the corporate limits of the city.

Frommeyer, the incumbent, is employed by the Naval Ocean Research and Development Activity.

Carter is an auxiliary officer for the Waveland Police Department.

Election officers Saturday include Joe Colson, chairman, Bob Hubbard, secretary, and Arcelyn Dastigie and Thelma Exnicious, clerks.

$4 million building approved for NSTL

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
A $4 million appropriations bill to construct a 50,000 square foot building at National Space Technology Laboratories was passed in the state Senate Friday. "The purpose of the Mississippi Institute of Technology Transfer will be to provide a means for private enterprise to have access to the non-military technology being developed at the test site," Bay St. Louis Senator Gene Taylor said.

The building will be leased to the federal government and the space will be made available to agencies and contractors interested in locating or expanding at NSTL.

According to Taylor, several businesses have already expressed an interest in the building which represents 250-275 new high-technology jobs.

"These high-technology jobs with salaries of more than $30,000 a year are precisely the kind of jobs we have been trying to get here on the coast," Taylor said.

The proposal was rejected by a 19-21 vote Thursday, but was reintroduced as an amendment to an appropriation bill Friday.

Taylor said he had talked with several senators Thursday night and following a meeting of Senate Appropriations Chairman Glenn Dewese and a representative of NSTL, the project was passed with only one dissenting vote.

The project has already been passed by the House, Taylor added.

Jury to be sequestered in Guilbeau marijuana trial

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
Circuit Court Judge Kosta Vlahos ruled Friday that the jury will be sequestered during the trial of Virginia Guilbeau and three other defendants scheduled to begin March 11 in Hancock County.

Guilbeau, Gregory Ladner, Ivan Martinez and Raul Rojas will be tried for possession of marijuana with the intent to sell or distribute.

The judge's order said testimony by Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson had led the court to conclude there could be "pervasive media coverage" of the trial and therefore the jury should be sequestered under the supervision of the court bailiffs.

District Attorney's office representative Herman Cox said the case was ready for trial as far as the state is concerned.

Charges were filed on the four following the March 24, 1984 discovery of 5,100 pounds of marijuauna by Hancock County Sheriff's Deputies and Drug Enforcement Officials at the Guilbeau residence on Firetower Road in Kiln.

Rojas, who was at the Guilbeau residence, was arrested immediately and Guilbeau and Ladner (her son) turned themselves in at the Hancock County Sheriff's office April 2.

Cox said the judge had taken a motion to limit the introduction of certain things by the defense under advisement.

Ranger chosen to take over county animal control duties

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has approved expanding the duties of the county ranger to include dog control.

The board decided Thursday that County Ranger Lesil Dedeaux Jr. should be deputized by the Sheriff's Department, authorizing him to pick up stray dogs in the county.

The board took the action after receiving numerous complaints from residents about strays, packs of roaming dogs and dog bites.

Bay St. Louis and Waveland employ dog wardens to catch stray animals and deliver them to the Waveland animal shelter.

The county contributes to the pound's operating expenses but the responsibility of picking up stray animals rests with the Sheriff's Department.

Sheriff Ronald Peterson said his deputies currently act on animal control only when a complaint of a dog bite or a mad animal is received.

Dedeaux, whose present responsibilities are limited to keeping livestock off the roads, will be able to house the animals he catches in the Waveland animal shelter, which also houses animals brought in by private citizens.

According to law, animals at the shelter must be kept for at least five days and may be destroyed after that time. If someone claims an animal before the five days are up, the dog or cat will be returned for a fee, Board Attorney Walter Gex III said.

Dedeaux's pay will be increased from $250 to $550 per month to cover his new responsibilities.

Although the board took no action on the offer, Malcolm Tullier of Shoreline Park said he would be willing to assist Dedeaux in animal control free of charge.

Tullier had attended the board meeting to complain about packs of stray dogs in Shoreline Park.

In other action, Beat Two Supervisor A.A. Kellar appointed Woodrow Ladner to the Hancock County Planning Commission.

Ladner will replace commission member James Rester, who died recently.

Ladner is a former member of the Hancock County School Board.

The board also approved a recommendation by the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission, hiring Gulf Coast Security to serve Port Bienville Industrial Park. Security is presently provided by Sheriff's Department deputies.

The supervisors also discussed the problem of speed limits on county roads. Kellar proposed a limit of 30 mph on roads through Pearlinton and all subdivisions unless otherwise posted.

The board approved the action and plans to post speed limit signs in Pearlinton and all subdivisions where speed limits are not already posted.

Jeff Taylor of Gulf Regional Planning Commission addressed the board concerning illegal dumps on 16th section land in beats two and three.

Teachers continue picketing

BY DENA BISNETTE

Teachers in Hancock County and Bay St. Louis went on strike this week despite a decision by both school boards to move up spring holidays.

Peggy Dutton, a spokesperson for the United Teachers of Hancock County and Bay St. Louis, reported Friday that teachers are picketing at all local schools as well as additional locations including U.S.-90.

She said the fact that administrators consider the teachers to be on holiday has not stopped them from striking.

"All we can say is that our strike is against the legislators, not our local school boards," she explained.

The strikers are hoping that their actions will influence the legislators to approve a $3,500 per year pay raise for Mississippi teachers.

In addition to picket lines, the teachers have established a communications center at the St. Rose Community Center.

According to Gulfview Elementary teacher Gaynelle Roberts, the first teacher in the county to picket last week, educators at the center are working on letters and petitions to help their cause.

Neither Bay St. Louis Superintendent J.D. McCullough nor Hancock Superintendent Terrell Randolph was available for comment Friday.

Dutton said the teachers plan to continue their picketing efforts Monday.

She added that striking teachers have continued to receive support from parents, and said some picketers reported that parents had joined them in this week's marches.

DONATION—Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett, left, and Police Chief Murray Ladner examine the station wagon scheduled to be donated to the Neighborhood Crime Watch Program this week. Ladner said the department also has a limited number of neighborhood watch signs to be donated to the program. Anyone interested in helping with the program should contact Ladner or Bob Wells, auxiliary police chief. (Staff photo by Brenda Heathcock)

The board had asked the State Department of Natural Resources to extend its May 31 deadline for submission of a clean-up plan.

The request was denied. Taylor said he has sent the Department of Natural Resources a letter, outlining possible short-range actions to alleviate the problem, and recommended that the board ask for a shorter extension than the Oct. 30 deadline originally requested.

He said the board may then be able to get a long extension on whichever of the three dumps will be the most difficult to close.

The supervisors also accepted bids on clay gravel for beats two, four and five; and decided to send Roger Dale Ladner to the National Association of Supervisors meeting in Washington, D.C., in place of James Travirca, who can not attend.

Point of Law

(Prepared by the Mississippi State Bar. Some legal rights may vary from locality to locality. Always consult an attorney when in doubt about your rights.)

Q: My wife and I have been transferred and need to sell our house. We have an offer from a buyer who wishes to assume our loan. Our lender has advised us that it will consent to the assumption. If we sell our house in this manner and our buyer defaults on the loan, will we have any responsibility if the lender gives its consent?

A: Although your lender may consent to the transfer, you will not be released from personal liability on your loan unless your lender makes a specific agreement to this effect. Some lenders will not do this at all. Others charge a fee for the release of the seller.

If you are not released, you will remain personally liable on the loan. If the buyer defaults and the lender forecloses, you could be held liable for any deficiency between the amount realized by the lender at foreclosure and the balance of the loan.

If the market value of your property is in excess of the balance of the loan, however, this may not be too great a risk.

Q: I have contacted a person about purchasing a piece of land from him to build a house. He tells me there are no problems with the title to the land. Is this sufficient?

A: To be sure you are protected, you should have a title examination. This involves your attorney searching the records of the city and county to be certain there are no problems with the title. If there are title problems, banks generally will not loan money for construction or even for purchase.

Picketing locations announced

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Although Hancock County and Bay St. Louis school boards voted to move up spring holidays, local teachers plan to continue picketing next week, according to Peggy Dutton, spokesman for United Teachers of Hancock County and Bay St. Louis.

Dutton said teachers will be picketing as follows: Bay junior high teachers at the school; Bay senior high teachers on US-90; North Bay teachers on US-90 at Dunbar Avenue; Waveland Elementary teachers at the school and on US-90 near the Highway 603 intersection; Hancock North Central teachers on Highway 603 at the entrance to the school; Gulfview Elementary teachers at the school; and Charles B. Murphy teachers at the school and on US-90.

Monday the teachers will be joined on the picket line by Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett.

Bennett said he will picket during the noon hour to show his support for the teachers in their effort to get a pay raise from the Mississippi legislature.

Also on Monday, a group from Hancock North Central will travel to Jackson to support the pay raise request, Dutton said.

Another group from Hancock is scheduled to go to Jackson Thursday.

Dutton also reported that a Parents For Teachers group is being organized locally.

For more information on the group call Randy and Kathy Erickson, 467-9734.

Pass Christian School Superintendent Leroy Lizana reported Friday that all schools in the Pass Christian School District will be closed until further notice.

Lizana said this decision is based on the fact that a sufficient number of teachers is not available for work to ensure teaching, supervision and adequate safety for the district's school children.

School administrators, supervisors, secretaries, bookkeepers, custodians and the bus mechanic will be expected to report to work as usual even though the schools are closed, he said.

WOLF—A stuffed timber wolf looks out from between plants in a window display at Earline's Flower Cottage in Waveland's Water Tower Plaza Shopping Center. Berlyn Cuevas found the wolf, which was apparently killed by a car, about two years ago on Hwy. 603 near Kiln. He had the animal mounted after learning that the wolf was one of the first of its kind found in the area. Employees at Earline's say the wolf has attracted numerous visitors, particularly children, since it was placed in the display last week. (Staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

Common Cause cites ethics legislation

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article is furnished to The Sea Coast Echo by Common Cause/Mississippi, by its own description "a non-partisan citizens' lobbying organization dedicated to working within the system for more open and accountable government."

By Paul M. Neville
Vice President
Common Cause/Mississippi

Pending in the House of Representatives are a proposed constitutional amendment and accompanying legislation dealing with ethical standards for public officials.

House Concurrent Resolution 32 and House Bill 918 are the response of the legislative leadership to the resounding defeat of the last constitutional amendment on ethics.

The clearly stated purpose of this package is to replace all of the contracting prohibitions contained in Section 109 of the Mississippi Constitution with general statements against wrongdoing, coupled with requirements for "disclosure."

Mississippi, along with 32 other states, maintains prohibitions against public officials' dealing for state contracts. (Source: Campaign Finance, Ethics, and Lobby Law, Blue Book 1984-85, The Council on Governmental Ethics Laws, The Council of State Governments.)

Removal of the prohibitions would benefit not only legislators—as the rejected amendment had provided—but would allow politicians at all levels of government to deal not only at their own levels but even with their own bodies.

Supervisors could sell to their own counties and council members could contract with their own cities. This radical approach appears to be aimed at broadening the political appeal of the measure to local politicians in hopes of securing its passage.

Common Cause believes that this approach and particularly this legislative package are destructive of the traditional protections against conflicts of interest and profiteering under which this state has operated for 95 years. We issue this indictment to detail how we consider this legislation defective and dangerous.

Count 1. The underlying principle—disclosure in place of prohibition—offers no real protection.

It is based on the principle that as long as I tell you how I'm going to profit from my public service, you can vote me out of office next time I stand for election if you don't like it.

This provision gives the unscrupulous politician four years of profits before the people can voice their objections, and then only if he or she stands for reelection.

He may have profited enough that he need not worry about further

"public service." If he does stand for reelection, other important issues may overshadow the ethical questions.

His opponent may be a crook or an incompetent, and the incumbent may seem the better of the two evils.

Count 2. The disclosure provided is no real disclosure.

The proposed amendment says the politician shall disclose "as provided by law." The accompanying bill says the legislator "shall not be required to file a pecuniary interest disclosure when the matter under consideration affects the citizens of the State of Mississippi as a whole" (lines 537-539).

The bill further provides that the legislator need only disclose a pecuniary interest that exists when the matter is "under consideration" (lines 527-528).

If a car dealer who is a legislator sponsors a bill to authorize 1,000 new cars for the highway patrol, that affects the citizens of Mississippi as a whole, so he discloses nothing.

If he runs around and uses his influence to sell all 1,000 of the cars authorized to the state, he still discloses nothing because his pecuniary interest did not exist when the matter was "under consideration."

The people would never know and would not be protected if the prohibition against such a contract were removed from the Constitution.

Count 3. The general admonition that the politician shall not "use" his official position to gain any pecuniary benefit is unenforceable.

Assuming that he is not so unwise as to vote directly on a contract with himself, proof that politicians steered each other's contracts into law would not be susceptible to proof unless one of them confesses.

The effectiveness of the present prohibitions is that you do not have to prove anything except that the connection with the politician exists.

Count 4. The legislation removes the penalties for violating the ethical standards.

Section 25-4-109 of the Mississippi Code of 1972 provides for still penalties—removal from office and/or a $5,000 fine for a violation of the standards.

House Bill 918 amends that section to completely remove any penalty (lines 579-588). It substitutes as punishment a public or private "reprimand" (lines 595-597).

In the unlikely event that the public can prove that a politician "used" his office for private gain, his punishment may be a secret slap on the wrist.

In Summary—The proposed package is a more direct attack on ethical standards in this state than that which was overwhelmingly rejected by the people in 1984.

We believe that most public officials are honest and would not purposefully use (or misuse) their public trust for private gain. However, changing the rules to allow substantial conflicts of interest would, we believe, attract the venal and corrupt to public office.

The best, most dedicated teachers in Mississippi leave state for better paying jobs

Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

To the Editor:

In a friendly discussion of Mr. Kaupp's recent letter to the editor, I was told that such letters were published "cause that's what sells papers."

I am, however, very disturbed at the publishing of such foolishness. I would have to agree with Mr. Kaupp's statement that $13 an hour, paid sick leave and all holidays off plus summer vacation would be the ideal job.

Unfortunately, Pandora's box isn't what it seems, and you only have to know a teacher to realize that Mr. Kaupp doesn't!

I have been a teacher in this area for the past 11 years (and let me stress that I love my job). I have a master's degree in elementary education, and even with my experience, I don't make the $17,000 Mr. Kaupp spoke of.

Teachers aren't childishly requesting allowances to match their neighbors—they are asking that they be given back their self-respect.

Teachers were once respected for their influence and their position in society.

Mississippi teachers spend four years of preparation only to be abused and scoffed at by politicians. And believe me, it becomes steadily more difficult to have a positive effect on the lives of students who are aware of the teachers' plight.

In response to those who think teachers "have it made in the shade," a teacher does work more than 7½ hours a day, 182 days a year, though some people refuse to realize this fact.

I would like to point out that, without any additional pay, I was a 4-H Club sponsor for four years, a cheerleader sponsor for five years, chorus sponsor for two years, and yearbook sponsor for three years.

All of this kept me away from my home for hours-on-end.

Then there are the ball games (running the clocks, keeping gate receipts, or operating concessions). Don't forget the PTO meeting (I served as president one year and secretary for two years).

And Heaven forbid I should leave out the teen dances in the school cafeteria, Halloween carnivals, fund raisers and the Christmas programs with hours of practice and numerous costumes to make. Whew!

When on earth does one find time to grade the five-page compositions, assigned the English class, the reports the history class wrote on the Civil War, and the short stories written in creative writing?

Well, Mr. Kaupp, it "ain't" easy! Top all this off with the AIM program, ten-year evaluation, staff development, and book adoption meetings and that 7½-hour day becomes a 17-hour day. If you don't believe me...ask a teacher!

Parents should join teachers on the picket lines

Editor
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:

The parents of Mississippi feel that the teachers had a right to strike. And now that they were forced to "back down" the parents should stand up for our teachers and get on the picket line for them, if it is legally possible.

We feel that the future of our children depend on us, and the qualified teachers who teach our children.

If it were not for the teachers the people in the Legislature would not be where they are today.

So I think the parents should stand behind our teachers and help them in every way we can, whether by participating in the strike, calling the capital or finding some other way of supporting them.

Parents, please let's show our support for our teachers because it is for the well being of our children and the United States of America.

JAN LOTT
Bay St. Louis

Strangely enough, I'm one of the lucky ones. My salary is supplemental to my husband's (who, by the way, must be a saint to put up with my career).

His group insurance is only one-third the cost of the teachers' group insurance.

And although the babysitter gets one-third of my take-home pay, we manage to survive.

On the other hand, many of my colleagues are single parents struggling to maintain a family as they work a second job.

The rent is high, the car stays in disrepair, and the cost of living just won't stop climbing, not to mention taxes. (Yes, teachers pay those taxes, too!)

No one seems to be complaining about the $6,000 raise the legislators are proposing themselves with our taxes! They make more money in their three-month sessions than we do in nine months. And we still don't have the public kindergartens that were to be funded by that tax on alcohol...remember?

Where was that money spent? No, Mr. Kaupp, teachers aren't childish. And teachers certainly aren't out to make gains at the expense of our children. We love our jobs and our students. If teachers don't stand united, demanding that education be made a priority in this state, then you can accuse us of wrongdoing.

I personally can't blame the more qualified, mobile teachers for seeking positions in nearby states where they can make from $5,000 to $7,000 more than Mississippi offers.

And, Mr. Kaupp, I, too, would like to urge concerned citizens to write our legislators. Demand to know where education dollars have been spent! Demand to know why Mississippi ranks lowest of 50 states in education!

And demand to know why they are willing to allow our best, most dedicated teachers to leave the state or walk out of the classroom in frustration!

I have four children of my own, ages 6, 4, 3 and 2 months. I personally want only the best for my children.

I hope that every parent, student, and truly concerned citizen will support teachers if they are forced to walk out of their classrooms to make our esteemed governor and legislators wake up and vote for education—for our children!

Oh, by the way, Mr. Kaupp, while you enjoyed the Mardi Gras parades, I was grading these book reports, writing lesson plans, and averaging students' grades for interim reports.

Sincerely,
Denise Wilkinson

Spectator blasts Triton, Pass parade efforts

TRITON PARADE

Hey Triton, what happened to the rest of your parade?

After waiting 1½ hours to be sure we would have a front row seat, I doubt that it took 30 minutes for the parade to roll past us.

You could compare it to going for a doctor visit, long wait, short visit—you know what I mean!

Your few floats and costumes were beautiful, but what about marching bands, bands on floats or trucks and marching groups?

The two bands, PRJC and Bay Tiger Pride, were so unenthusiastic, they should be replaced.

At a parade stop, PRJC band was at our viewing point and did they play music? Oh no, they totally broke rank and "flopped" down on the street and on the median.

This was at the midway point of the parade route. Now if those young people don't have the physical stamina to endure such a short distance, they shouldn't participate. Of course two bands aren't enough for any parade.

So how about it Triton—more floats, more bands, more marching groups.

Now if you can't afford it, don't bother putting on another bad show.

PASS CHRISTIAN PARADE

Having been a spectator at the Pass Christian Mardi Gras parade, I am compelled to express my feelings as to what a "sorry" event it was.

Organization officer lauds newspaper's coverage of group's activities

Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Editor:

Thank you! Our delegates have just returned from Daughters of the American Revolution district meeting held in Tupelo and brought the good news that Friendship Oak Chapter won second place in Press Book Contest.

We are happy with this recognition, but it could never have happened without the splendid cooperation of The Sea Coast Echo.

We thank you for handling our

If the organization can't afford to do any better, I suggest they "can it."

I should say "bottle it," and this is not meant as a compliment as in fine perfume. I mean there were enough "booze bottles" used by the participants to do this, I'm sure.

In all my years of viewing Mardi Gras parades in New Orleans, I've never seen so many float riders drinking from a bottle and waving the bottle to be sure everyone saw it.

By the way, is this what you were doing when you made the floats?

From the looks of them, one would think so. Not one float was anything to be admired.

I'm no prude—I love fun—but as part of the parade, you sacrifice this till it's over.

What about marching bands? Don't you realize that marching bands and the music they play and bands on floats or trucks and their music—why that's half of the parade! Not that recorded music "screeching" from those weak sound systems.

Sure, beautiful floats, pretty costumes and bands are expensive; so if you can't afford it you should forget it. Your parade is not a good representation of Mardi Gras, it's a disgrace.

Make it a thing of the past, Pass. Concerned Coastal Citizen

IN CONGRESS By Cong. Trent Lott

A TEST OF SACRIFICE

The most important issue facing the 99th Congress is the budget deficit. More than anything else, it threatens to undo the progress made in the last four years in reducing interest rates, eliminating double digit inflation and putting more people to work in a growing economy.

We cannot afford a return to the days of "stagflation," and I am concerned that inaction on the budget deficit could bring that result.

The question is how? Do we raise taxes or do we cut spending? I have asked that question in the annual questionnaires I have mailed to South Mississippians since I came to Washington, and more than 90 percent of you have told me to support decreases in federal spending.

And, the majority of you have told me that you would be willing to support cuts in programs which directly affect you, if it would help to bring the budget into balance.

If the Congress musters the courage to attack the deficit instead of bowing to the pressures of the myriad of special interest groups in Washington, that commitment to sacrifice will be tested.

The President has sent a budget to the Congress calling for a modified across-the-board freeze on all spending. With the exception of social security and defense, all spending in fiscal year 1986 would be frozen at the previous year's level.

Stopping the increase in federal spending alone, however, will not bring down the deficit. We are going to have to eliminate some federal programs. The President has made some recommendations in this area, and more will be offered in the days to come by individual Members of Congress.

The 99th Congress will be challenged to restrain federal spending in all areas of the budget and to reduce federal involvement in activities that are primarily state and local responsibilities.

If everyone is willing to tighten his belt, we will be able to cut into these huge deficits. I am hopeful that the rest of the country will show the commitment to sacrifice which we have pledged in South Mississippi.

Congregation honors couple on seven years of service

Reverend and Mrs. Charles Rush were honored recently by members of the Church of The Lord Jesus on their seventh anniversary of service to the church.

Rush took over the pastorate in the winter of 1978, following the death of his father, the late Rev. Fenton L. Rush who had pastored the church since its founding back in 1967.

The Church of The Lord Jesus began with services being conducted in the Fenton Rush home while plans were being made to construct a church building.

By 1969, the shell of the church had been erected and miraculously was spared any damage from Hurricane Camille.

At the time of Fenton Rush's death, the remodeling of the sanctuary had just begun.

Since Charles Rush took over the pastorate in 1978, a new fellowship hall has been built and four new Sunday School classrooms are under construction with completion expected by the end of the year.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall for Rev. and Mrs. Rush following the evening service of Sunday, Feb. 3, hosted by church members and attended by family and friends.

A special cake was made in honor of the occasion decorated with green roses and scalloped leaves on a white base, with the quote "Happy 7th Anniversary" in green script.

A corsage and boutonniere made of assorted carnations was presented to the pastor and his wife prior to the 11 a.m. service by Sister Joan Starr and Brother Guy Fussell.

A time of fellowship included serving of cake, coffee and punch. Pictures were taken by Bro. Herbert Starr.

Rush and his wife have extended an invitation to those interested to visit the church and worship with them.

Services on Sunday include Sunday School at 10 a.m., worship service at 11 a.m., and evening service at 6 p.m.

A taxpayer's death does not necessarily mean that a Federal income tax return is no longer required in his or her name, according to Sylvia Wren, director of the Internal Revenue Service in Mississippi.

If the taxpayer died before filing a 1984 tax return, his or her spouse or personal representative must file and sign a return for the decedent if a return is required. A personal representative can be an executor, administrator, or anyone with legal responsibility to take care of the decedent's affairs. If a return is not required, but the taxpayer had tax withheld, a return should be filed to obtain a refund.

If the surviving spouse did not remarry before Dec. 31, 1984, a joint return can be filed. Also, joint returns for 1984 and 1985 can be filed if the taxpayer died in 1985 before filing a 1984 return.

Further information is contained in the free IRS Publication 559, "Tax Information for Survivors, Executors, and Administrators," available by calling the IRS Forms/Information number listed in the local telephone directory.

NEW BUS
Thanks to our super supervisor, we have another new bus. They have been kind enough to put up the matching funds needed to obtain these mini-buses from the state office of Energy and Transportation.

Our '79 and '80 vans have 88,000 and over 100,000 miles on them and have really been used! We stop and start in town and pick up all over the county with these vans. They have been really great little vehicles for us.

The new mini-buses have many assets — our people don't have to stoop and crawl over each other to get in. It also takes just one driver to drive and open the door. On our vans, the driver had to jump out, run around the bus to open the door and put out the little step stool to unload each passenger, or carry two staff members on the runs.

COMING EVENTS
March 25 will be our next birthday/games party. We will be getting ready for Easter, so that will be our theme. It has always been too windy for us to do things out at Buccaneer Park, so we will just meet at the center.

Friday, April 12 we will take any of you who want to go to the Silver Creek Catfish House for lunch. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell have offered to provide seniors with lunch, drink, tax, and tip for $6.

Please sign up with Rosine so we can see how many are interested.

May is Senior Citizen month and we want to do something special. Our advisory board thinks you all would like to take trips to New Orleans to see the new Jax Brewery Building and go shopping in the French Quarter.

We will go every Friday leaving the center at 8:30-9 a.m. and returning by 4:30 p.m. Start signing up in the office now.

NEEDS ASSESSMENT

The governor and the Mississippi Council on Aging are very interested in finding out what the senior citizens in Mississippi need. They have devised a long questionnaire for over 2,000 representative seniors to fill out and they will extract the data needed to better provide for their needs.

I will be working in our county assisting 13 of you to fill this form out. I must get city and rural persons, rich and poor, black and white. All of the counties in Mississippi will be doing this. You will be hearing about this and about the results later.

NEW PERSONNEL

As you who eat here know, Betty Mollahan resigned as site manager for meals and we were fortunate enough to have Tuleter Oliver take over. She is doing a great job and we appreciate the help many of you give her.

Eugene Aronstein will be coming to work for us as a new senior aide. He will be working Mondays, Thursdays, and Fridays as bus driver, and maintenance person. We are happy to have this fine addition to our staff.

MONDAY BREAKFAST

The Senior Citizens Club of Bay St. Louis will serve breakfast here at the center Monday morning at 8 a.m. Come by for delicious biscuits (fresh made), eggs, sausage, grits and juice. They will be serving until 10 a.m., so come on over.

SENIOR CITIZENS BUS—Hancock County officials meeting for their first look at a bus recently purchased for the Hancock County Senior Citizens are, from left, Supervisors James Travira and Bert Courrege; Chancery Clerk Michael Necaise; Supervisors Roger around player, sportsmanship and most valuable player.

Hawks take double victory in spring football games

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock North Central Hawks beat the Bay St. Louis High School Tigers in a spring football double-header Thursday night.

The high school Hawks won 34-14 while the junior high Hawks shut out the Tigers 32-0.

"I glad this game is over, but it may have been the best spring football game ever played here," said Irvin Favre, head coach of the high school Hawks. "We've had a good spring and this was a good game with lots of enthusiasm."

"We played a lot of people. We had about 50 dressing out for this game. I thought we executed real well."

Favre added, however, that he feels the victory does not accurately indicate how the Hawks will perform against Bay High during the regular season.

"It's always a tight game when we take on Bay High," he said, adding that some Bay High starters whose performance could influence Tiger play once the season starts were absent from the spring game.

"The Tigers did a pretty good job," said Bay Head Coach Cleveland Williams. "We had several key players out and it's tough when you start an eighth grader at quarterback."

"We played a lot of freshmen this spring and there's still a lot of work to do before the season starts," he added.

Hancock North Central started the scoring Thursday with a touchdown on a one-yard run by halfback Charles Burton.

Drew Malley kicked an extra point to give the Hawks a 7-0 lead with 6:29 left in the first quarter.

In the second quarter, split end Tommy Lull caught a Hancock pass thrown by quarterback Brett Favre and ran it in for a touchdown and a gain of 13 yards on the play.

Malley kicked a second extra point, bringing the score to 14-0.

Bay scored for the first time with 1:47 to go in the second quarter, when Stace McRaney ran in a Tiger pass for 10 yards and a touchdown.

McRaney also kicked the extra point, posting seven points on the scoreboard just before halftime.

The Hawks went into the second half with a 14-7 lead but Bay tied the score with a touchdown on a seven-yard run by Aaron Whavers and an extra point kick by McRaney.

Hancock took the lead again later in the third quarter when Burton scored a touchdown with 9:03 to go. Malley kicked an extra point to bring the score to 21-14.

The Hawks increased their lead in the last quarter with a touchdown on a 45-yard run by halfback Donald Vince and an extra point kick by Malley.

With a 28-14 lead and a little more than one minute left in the game, the Hawks handed the ball to halfback Daryl Booker, who ran it in eight yards for the night's last touchdown.

An extra point attempt failed and the final score stood at Hawks 34, Tigers 14.

In junior high action, the Hawks claimed a 32-point victory over the scoreless Tigers.

Hawk Head Coach Joe Shaw said he was pleased with his team's performance.

"All of them played a super game, with no breakdowns. I'm especially proud of our defensive ends, Larry Beech and Earl Brown."

HELPING OUT—Tiger ballcarrier Douglas Rhodes (12) gets a little help from teammate Buddy Bourn when a Hancock North Central defender catches him by the jersey in Thursday's junior high game.

"A lot of our questions about the season were answered tonight, but we have a long way to go because we have a brutal schedule," he added.

In the junior high game, Hawk fullback Terrence Goff started scoring for the night with a touchdown on a 10-yard run.

The Hawks scored two extra points on a pass play to Anthony Norton to give Hancock an 8-0 lead.

The Hawks' second touchdown was scored on a 17-yard run by quarterback Jeff Moran. The extra point attempt was no good and the score stood at 14-0.

The second quarter was scoreless, but in the third quarter Hancock added two touchdowns.

The first was on a 25-yard run by Moran and the second was on a 28-yard run by halfback Tater Graham. Both extra point attempts failed.

In the fourth quarter, Graham scored the final touchdown of the game on an eight-yard run. The extra point attempt was no good, leaving the final score 32-0.

PARKER CARRIES—Jessie Parker, returning to Bay High's team from last season, carries the ball in Thursday's spring game. Bay High was defeated 34-14 by Hancock North Central.

TRYING TO GET BY—Tiger Rob Compretta (65) rushes in as Hawk defender Delano Lewis (12) makes a grab for ballcarrier Matt Fairconnetue (21) in Thursday's Spring football game between the Hancock North Central Hawks and the Bay High School Tigers. The Hawks took a 34-14 win over the Tigers.

MRS. DAVID PAUL BUTLER

Butler—Ford

Christ Episcopal Church was the setting for the February 9 marriage of Elizabeth French Ford and David Paul Butler. The Rev. Charles Johnson officiated at the afternoon ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jones H. Ford of Bay St. Louis. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. K.O. Butler of Huddleston, Va.

Decorating the sanctuary were arrangements of creamy white gladioli, chrysanthemums and pink carnations, while rail and hymn racks were adorned with baby's breath, ivory and white satin bows. Satin bows with baby's breath marked the pews.

Nuptial music was presented by organist Mrs. Pat Hille and vocalist Ron Skinner.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal gown of ivory satin with portrait neckline and fitted empire bodice applied with Alencon lace and embellished with seed pearls. Juliet puffed upper sleeves featured lower tapered sleeves of Alencon lace. The full flared skirt was bordered with lace and had a chapel length train. She wore a bandeau cap of matching lace with chapel length veil of illusion strewn with lace appliques.

The bride carried a cascade of ivory roses and rosebuds, stephanotis, ivy and baby's breath. Deborah Donahoe of Houston, Tex. sister of the bride, was matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Rebekah Jensen of Charleston, S.C., sister of the bride; and Deborah Newman and Sharon Butler of Alexandria, Va., sisters of the groom.

The attendants wore formal gowns of garnet moire taffeta, each with sweetheart neckline and short, fitted sleeves defined with bows at the shoulders. They carried cascades of pink sweetheart roses, burgundy dogwood, ivy and plumosa.

Misses Heather Donahoe and Erin Donahoe of Houston, nieces of the bride, were flower girls. They wore garnet velvet dresses with ecru lace collars.

K.O. Butler of Huddleston served his son as best man.

Groomsmen were Doug Butler of Huddleston and Bruce Butler of Annandale, Va., brothers of the groom; and Stephen Berliner of Fairfax, Va.

Ushers were Bruce Ford of Slidell, La., brother of the bride, and Michael Matulka of Richmond, Va. Ryan Donahoe of Houston, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Sean Donahoe of Houston, nephew of the bride, was acolyte. Scripture readings were rendered by LCDR William A. Ford II of Concord, Calif., brother of the bride.

Mrs. Ford chose for her daughter's wedding a street length dress of mauve lace and georgette crepe with fitted lace bodice, puffed sleeves and cummerbund waistline. The groom's mother was attired in a deep ivory jacquard crepe street length dress of cowl neckline, long sleeves and flared skirt.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Diamondhead Country Club. Music was provided by Jay Heitzman with "The Wedding Song" performed by Bruce Ford, brother of the bride.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. William A. Ford Jr. of Columbus, Ga., aunt of the bride; Mrs. Carl Heltzel of Manassas, Va., cousin of the bride; and Lee Ann Bennett of Bay St. Louis, guest register.

On return from a wedding trip to Florida, the couple will reside in Falls Church, Va.

Out-of-town guests included LCDR Ralph E. Hanson, uncle of the bride; Mrs. Clare Steele, Lymington, Hampshire, UK; Mr. and Mrs. William Ford Jr., uncle and aunt of the bride, Columbus, Ga.; Colonel and Mrs. Merle Bare, Woodbridge, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Donahoe, Irvine, Calif.; Ms. Melanie Donahoe, Washington, D.C.; CDR and Mrs. Charles Farwell, Cooper City, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. R.M. Todd, Greensboro, NC; Mr. and Mrs. G.K. Pre-nuptial parties

A shower was hosted by Mr. Merle Bare in her home in Woodbridge, Va.

The Diamondhead home of Mrs. E.R. Phillpott was the site of a tea also hosted by Mrs. W.R. Paul and Mrs. Lee Bennett.

A bridal luncheon at the Diamondhead Country Club was hosted by Mrs. William Ford Jr., aunt of the bride.

A rehearsal dinner hosted by Mr. and Mrs. K.O. Butler was held at Christ Episcopal's Virginia Hall.

Financial planning services

More Americans are using the services of professional financial planners. In the early 1970s general financial planners were thought little of by the investment world.

Now, people seek budget help, investment pointers and tax shelter hints from the 50,000 "financial planners" in the U.S. Services of a financial planner who may cost up to $175 an hour. Unless your annual income exceeds $50,000 you probably do not need a financial planner.

Bankers, accountants and lawyers can best meet your occasional financial needs in this case.

If you do need the services of a financial planner, these are pointers to consider:

- 1) Check qualifications because the field is not regulated. Ask about certification and expect references.
- 2) Certification may be from one of two main schools: the College of Financial Planning in Denver, or the American College in Pennsylvania. Other schools offer special degrees.
- 3) The planner should check your budget for problems, let you set goals, suggest strategies and help in implementing them.
- 4) A brokerage firm may offer lower-cost, but less-individualized plans.
- 5) The planner may invest for you but watch the planner who works solely on commissions. His recommendations will be swayed by his commissions fee.

On pension plans

There are many unfortunate stories of people who thought they were the beneficiary of a certain person's estate or life insurance only to find out too late that someone else was named. Cases like this may happen through neglect or procrastination. People just don't get around to making needed changes after divorce or other changes in relationships.

A man died in Florida. His second wife, of 20 years, discovered that the beneficiary of her husband's pension plan was his first wife. A settlement with her cost the widow $30,000 of the $100,000 benefit, according to an article in U.S. News & World Report by John W. Hazard.

If beneficiaries are made aware of options in advance by the designator, says Hazard, such costly situations might be avoided. A widow was the beneficiary of her husband's life insurance. The company's agent persuaded her to take a lump sum and invest it in a life annuity on which he received a substantial commission. He failed to inform her that she could have taken an annuity option commission free. It may be time for you to check beneficiaries you have named. Keep in mind beneficiaries are named in wills, on life insurance policies, pension plans and individual retirement accounts.

Blue Jeans Garden Club

The Blue Jeans Garden Club met last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Robert Ortiz, Waveland, for the monthly meeting of the group.

New member, Mrs. Margaret Heitzman, was introduced and cordially welcomed by the members.

Mrs. Ortiz and Mrs. Beverly Coogan will present a film of special interest on flower arranging at the March meeting which will be held at the home of Mrs. J.C. Goodloe, Clermont Harbor.

Plans were formulated for the Blue Jean's annual plant sale scheduled to follow the Apr. 18 meeting.

Mrs. Gilbert Brechtel Sr. won the door prize, a lovely potted plant.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Ortiz for the social following the business meeting were Mesdames Brechtel, Maurice Shea and Davis Caillier.

Next meeting is scheduled for March 21.

Diamondhead Garden Club

The Diamondhead Garden Club met Wednesday, February 20 with Mrs. R.B. Boatright presiding.

The Commercial Beautification Award for February had been given to the Purcell Building in Diamondhead. Mrs. George Kollasch, beautification chairman, announced Clean-Up-For-Pilgrimage week would be Mar. 16-22; she asked that each member take care of her own neighborhood and said that the Girl and Boy Scouts would clean up the public areas.

Mrs. Arno Leshin gave a short talk on butterflies.

Mrs. Howard Mitchell, pilgrimage chairman, announced that Mississippi's Miss Hospitality and Miss Hancock County Chamber of Commerce would be at the Diamondhead pilgrimage. Hours for lunch at the Country Club were announced as 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Reservations required.

Members were asked to volunteer to be hostesses at the Hancock County Welcome Center the afternoon of March 20, as part of the pilgrimage week activities.

Mrs. Tom Fredian, Flower Show chairman, announced the Flower Show would be held at the Baptist Church on April 12-13, with the theme being "The Wonderful World of Disney." Mrs. Jan Brameyer said the workshops for the Flower Show would be held on March 6, 13 and 27 at the home of Mrs. Hillaire Odgen.

Mrs. Boatright announced that the club had won second place for its float in the Mardi Gras parade, and thanked the chairman, Mrs. Stanley Haight, and her assistants, Mrs. C.T. Satterlee, Ms. Jean Keen, Mr. R.B. Boatright and Mr. Stanley Haight.

Mrs. John Booth displayed a sign that had been made and presented to the club by Mr. Uram which is to be placed at the Memorial Garden.

The club voted funds to be used to purchase a plaque to be placed on a tree at Beauvoir. February 25 is the date of the Arbor Day observance there.

Nominating committee chairman, Mrs. Kollasch, announced the slate of officers for 1985-87 as follows: Ms. Jean Keen, president; Mrs. Strabo Claggett, vice president; Mrs. Roger Onerati, recording secretary; Mrs. Clarence A. Evans, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. David Ludwig, treasurer.

Guests present were Mrs. P.B. Oglesbee, S. Schwartz, A. Johnson, W. Chancellor and J.B. Brumfield.

Speaker for the program was Mrs. W.D. Bryan, a past president of the Ocean Springs Garden Club, whose topic was "Wildflowers Along our Highways and By-ways."

Gulf Park offers reader tutoring

The University of Southern Mississippi at Gulf Park will offer tutoring for children in grades two through eight with reading difficulties, said Dr. Nancy Masztal, the Gulf Park Reading Center director.

"The one-to-one evaluation and tutoring promotes positive attitudes toward reading and enhances the students' self-concepts," Dr. Masztal said. "Undergraduate and graduate students in the Department of Curriculum and Instruction at Gulf Park will serve as instructors to the children."

The lessons will be taught twice a week after school, during the month of March. The bi-weekly sessions are 60 minutes each and the total cost for all sessions is $40.

For additional information about the classes, or to enroll a child in this session, contact Dr. Nancy Masztal at (601) 865-4547.
